Calls for protection were unclassified.²⁹The effect of atmospheric turbulence on the performance of imagers and beam projection systems have been found to be well expressed in terms of a model for a modulation transfer function (MTF) depending on the wave - length , range , and a property-path position weighted value $\leftrightarrow$, the turbulence structure constant for optical index.³⁰The short-term average and long term MTF and image wander (wave front tilt) can be predicted in the above parameters in most cases.³¹For non - Kolmogorov turbulence ,³²
